

BELAS CLUBE DE CAMPO: A UNIQUE PLACE IN GREATER LISBON

BELAS CLUBE CAMPO

Lisbon Green Valley

By André Jordan Group

With one of the finest championship golf courses in Portugal designed by renowned American architect Rocky Roquemore, a private club, restaurants and attractions for all ages, Belas Clube de Campo is a benchmark for residential resorts in a European capital.

Belas Clube de Campo was developed by the André Jordan Group – a group that has long been associated with Portugal and whose founder, André Jordan, is considered the “father of golf and tourism in Portugal”. Having created Quinta do Lago – considered by many as the best leisure and golf resort in the world – and revamped Vilamoura XXI, both in the Algarve.

With 500 hectares, the release of Belas Clube de Campo was a great success, bringing 750 families from 27 nationalities into the resort split between apartments, townhouses and private homes.

Belas Clube de Campo is the right place for those seeking quality of life and contact with nature, at just 20 minutes from the centre of Lisbon, Cascais and Sintra.

The golf course – an 18 hole championship course with par 72, is one of the best golf courses in Portugal and was designed as a meeting point between nature and golfers, with residents enjoying the long lush green landscape. All environmental aspects were given special attention, leading to the creation of a Quality and Environment Management System based on the ISO9001 and ISO14001 international standards.

The liaison between nature and modernity, make Belas Clube de Campo an ideal environment for families, where quality of life will be central to each resident's daily's routine.

Belas Clube de Campo's latest phase, the Lisbon Green Valley, has the same residential mix – apartments, townhouses and plots for villas – as its existing phases, and also includes a bilingual School (Jardim Escola João de Deus), and a project for a Health Unit/Senior Housing and Equestrian Centre.

Prices start from 350,00 euros for one -bedroom apartment and 520,00 euros for a two-bedroom apartment. The plots are available from 325,00 euros, and the Townhouses kick-off at 990,00 euros with three-bedrooms.

Belas Clube de Campo combines peacefulness, with the quality of life, in a family environment, complete with security and proximity to the cosmopolitan living on offer in central Lisbon. More than enough arguments to distinguish this location apart when choosing a new home.
